

We are

S Smart. Effort is important but to perform at the level needed in our projects one needs the raw mental capacity.

D Doers. We are more like a SWAT team for data-project delivery. We are extremely practical and we always deliver.

K Kind. This helps us not to have politics and most importantly we are open to feedback and we act on it.

We act

01 We always deliver

We do everything and anything possible for our projects to reach completion. Never-ending or failing projects are not something that we do.

02 We deliver fast

We believe that speed is a competitive advantage for any business and we help our Clients accelerate their data efforts.

03 We are open to feedback

Anyone should challenge our actions (not people) and if the feedback is well grounded, we always act and improve. We are not just "open to feedback" but we actively seek feedback.

04 We provide value to our Clients

We do not do analysis or engineering because it is cool or in order to have fun. We focus all our efforts into identifying insights and providing solutions.

05 We are honest

From admitting a mistake to praising a colleague, we are always honest with our actions to the Team and Clients.

06 We communicate clearly

We invest time to get to the crux of the concepts and this leads to shorter presentations, clearer emails and more focused calls.
